Classroom Spotlight:
Mr. Brown, Positive Action Center

Hello, and welcome to the Positive Action Center (PAC) here at Boyd Elementary!

Most of you may have questions on exactly what happens in my classroom; I instruct students on how to accept their consequences for their behavior/actions in the classroom. This can be done by providing adequate time to evaluate their actions through behavior analysis, positive decision making, and the expectations that come with being an elementary aged student. Depending on what situation arises in the classroom, library, art or gym class gives students the time to map out realistic goals and a productive plan for re-entering the classroom. A little about myself. I am a graduate from UNO with a Bachelor’s of Science in Education with a concentration in Kinesiology looking to pursue an Education degree to be a High School Athletic Director in the future. On the weekend you can find me at Husker football games, reading, or my favorite, Sunday night softball games. Thank you for your continued support of Boyd; and please do not hesitate to call with any questions!

One of the many things we take pride in at Boyd is excellent attendance. Attendance is vital to success in school. When students are in class, they are learning skills that will carry them through life. These habits and routines are most effective when learned now and a young age. As we understand it is necessary to keep your child home when they are sick and encourage you to do that. If your child is not sick we ask that you send them to school on time each and every day. The school day begins at 8:50 a.m. and dismisses at 4:05 p.m. To promote excellent attendance habits, we have some incentives to recognize perfect and outstanding attendance. We feel having great attendance includes being in class ready to learn. If students are referred out of the room due to behavior they are not learning. We are taking this into consideration when recognizing students for perfect and outstanding attendance. Below I have outlined this year’s requirements for perfect and outstanding attendance.

Quarterly Attendance

Perfect

• Each quarter we will honor students who receive perfect attendance.
• Perfect attendance means missing 0 minutes of school for the entire year.
• You have 0 PAC or office referrals. You are in the class 100% of the time learning.
• You are here everyday, on time, in their seats, and ready to learn.

  • Each quarter students with perfect attendance will receive a perfect attendance brag tag.

Outstanding

• Each quarter we will honor students who receive outstanding attendance.
• Outstanding attendance are students who miss only one day for that quarter, and have one or less office or PAC referrals.
• You will receive an outstanding attendance brag tag.

Yearly Attendance

Perfect

• This award is for students who have year long perfect attendance.
• They have missed 0 days of school for the entire school year!
• They have not missed class time because they were referred to the office or PAC room.

Outstanding

• Outstanding attendance is for students who have missed 3 or less than three days the entire school year.
• They have had 2 or less office or PAC referrals.
• Prize: It’s a surprise!
